Commentary with a work bias:

Persons with an Enhancer Pattern despise rules and limitations and will implement fastidiously planned solutions using unorthodox methods that are technically superior and insensitive to interpersonal relations. Enhancer persons exhibit foresight when focusing on projects, and they bring about change.

Although they think and react quickly, they want freedom to explore, and they want the authority to examine and retest findings. They can make daily decisions quickly but may be extremely cautious when making bigger decisions: "Should I take that promotion?" "Should I move to another location?"

They are able to reverse-engineer the underlying methodology of almost any system and apply the concepts. They tend to be hopeless in romance. Brilliant in charge of a team but may have difficulty on one if the manager and / or the other members are seen as incompetent.

In their drive for results and perfection, the Enhancer may not be concerned about social poise. As a result, they may be cool, aloof, emotionless or blunt.

Commentary when at their best as a person bias:

Yes, an Enhancer is rational, intense and visionary. But an Enhancer is way more than that. So many descriptions paint you as cold and robotic. But these descriptions are missing something. An Enhancer's ability to see things from so many different perspectives makes them more empathetic than people realise. An Enhancer is never afraid to tell people the truth if they feel that it is what is in the other person's best interest. An Enhancer's honesty together with a global and forward-thinking perspective is sometimes scary, but is also astoundingly useful.
